Lotus 1978
Peace College
Raleigh, N.C.

The Lotus.
Our Expression of Peace . . .

"there is sweet music here that softer falls
than petals from blown roses on the grass . . .
Music that brings sweet sleep down
the blissful skies."

"There is confusion worse than death, trouble on trouble, path on path . . .
The lotus blooms below the barren peak,
The lotus blows by every winding creek,
All the day the wind breaths low with mellower tone;"

Peace. We the students . . .
living in the clouds of happiness,
filled with times of pain,
biting inner winds . . .

in the clouds of tranquility, filled with times of mental riot and . . .
peace.
We the students . . .

through the good, through the bad,
living in the land of the lotus eaters.

An atmosphere filled with faces, faces smiling, those crying, tears spilling.

Smiles and tears, land of the lotus eaters.

"But they smile, they find a music centered in a doleful song . . .

Buried beneath the faces, the masks . . .
real feelings emerge from deep internal worlds, exposing Peace.

We the students.
Living in the land of the lotus eaters.

Campus Organizations

PSGA

The mention of student government usually brings vague thoughts of authoritative offices which sound impressive but actually seem to have little purpose except for parliamentary procedures and campus status. In reality, we are all a part of the student government because if we weren't here, there would be no one to govern. Leslie Dark, president of PSGA, states, "PSGA's purpose is to offer various activities for the students to participate in and to enjoy." The Dating Game, Halloween Carnival, Stunt Night, Spring Dance, and other such activities are PSGA sponsored.

PSCA

Peace, being a religious-oriented school, provides an organization for those interested in Christian fellowship. PSCA provides "opportunities to meet new friends, worship with them, have fun with them . . . and establish relationships that will not end in May when we are separated," says Beth Merrill, PSCA president. Some of the functions which PSCA sponsors are the Student-Faculty Picnic, the Little Sister Picnic, and Peanut Week. It also provides special services such as the Thanksgiving Service of Communion in November and the Holy Week Service before Easter.

Beth Merrill — President

PSRA

We all aren't "Jill Jock" . . . but you don't have to be to enjoy recreation, and this is exactly the goal of PSRA. Inza Walston, PSRA president, says, "PSRA is trying to get as many students involved as possible that are not athletically inclined and to stress that you do not have to be an athlete to participate." The intramurals, which, through an expanded program, provides everything from Backgammon to Spades to Basketball, have been a major success in getting students involved in activity. PSRA also sponsors the Powder Puff football game played between Freshmen and Sophomores, which is always unforgettable.

Inza Walston — President

Sue Saunders, Inza Walston, Teresa Medlin, Kathy Woodcock.

Honor Court; Judiciary Board

This is one organization at Peace that makes most of us sort of turn pale and break out in hives when mentioned. It's not really so dramatic, but to most of the students Honor Court is associated with trouble. Hopefully, during our stay at Peace, we never get invited to one of their group meetings . . . But the Honor Court and Judiciary Board do much more than suspend students and search rooms. Alisa Lamm, president of Honor Court, states their primary goals as such: "to contribute to the growth and development of our character through the process of each girl accepting her moral obligation to the college, to the students, and to herself."

Alisa Lamm — President

Resident Hall Chairmen

We can all remember our first days at Peace when the sophomores would try their best to make us think that "the rules" were similar to those at Central Prison. But we can also remember some sophomores who did their best at explanations and answered hundreds of naive questions. These are the Resident Chairmen. Their job continues through the year to keep us informed at weekly meetings about campus activities. They serve as the go-between for us and the administration and promote unity on their halls.

Non-Residents

Although representing a minority of Peace students, the Non-Residents contribute much to our school. Led by the Non-Resident Chairman, they have monthly meetings where reminders and information are given. Bake sales and Christmas card and wreath sales are discussed, and with money obtained from these sales the Non-Residents are able to purchase flowers for the chapel twice a year and to sponsor a special end-of-the year picnic. Non-Resident Chairman Teresa Medlin says "the Non-Residents are just another part of a very special group — The Peace Family."

"There's not a lack of news at Peace but a lack of people to write about it," said Kim Lennon, co-editor of Peace Times. Any interested student can participate in its publications which are issued monthly by the students. Photography, layout, news, and features writing are all parts of the Peace Times publication, so there seems to be something for everyone.

When it comes to preserving memories — showing your roommate what Jane Doe looks like and showing your parents which teacher hates you — the yearbook takes this responsibility. And it's the responsibility of the Lotus Staff to make these experiences and people vivid — vivid enough to see every color and every word. This is done through proper organization and many hours of dedicated working members, both seen and unseen. We thank them for their devotion.

Miss Peace 1978

Miss Sara Alisa Lamm

Alisa Lamm is a many-faceted member of the world of Peace. Whether she is winning a tennis game or presiding at an Honor Court Session or doing her course work to make all those A's, Alisa is quietly — and modestly — impressive. Because Alisa is truthful, friendly, sincere; because she truly is an Outstanding Sophomore; because her name really belongs in Who's Who in America's Junior Colleges; because she does represent the ideals of Peace, Alisa has received the highest honor one can obtain at Peace College. She has become Miss Peace.

Mr. John Crossno

The 1978 Lotus is dedicated to Mr. John Crossno, the man who makes history come alive at Peace, the man who stands out among the faculty because he remembers your name and speaks to you in the hall, the man who comes early in the morning and leaves late in the afternoon, the man whose door is always open to students who want to talk about history or curriculum or quiz grades — or who just want to talk. Mr. Crossno is appreciated by both students and colleagues for his genuine interest in our world. And, in recognition of his dedication to Peace, we dedicate the Lotus to him.

Editor's Note

The LOTUS 1978 is finished. I hope that, as you have looked through it, the pictures have brought back certain memories. The theme, "living in the land of the lotus." reminds me of what Peace College stands for. "Through the good, through the bad" are words anyone can identify with. Although the times are not always great, the time spent at Peace among friends will always be remembered and cherished. The LOTUS 1978 is your book for that time.

Without the helps of so many people the LOTUS would not be possible. Very many thanks go to Debi Robertson, co-editor, who provided the excellent copy throughout the book; to Evelyn Butler, co-editor, for special help and moral support in choosing pictures and doing layouts; to the staff who always helped the photographers; to Jean Hord and Fowler Spencer for the cover design and opening page; to Mrs. Mary Jo Cashion who provided so many pictures, and also to Mary James and Lynn Lawing for their photography; to my friends on 3rd Ross for their moral support when I really needed it; and especially to Mrs. Janet Wester, LOTUS Advisor, who has put so much time and effort into the 1978 LOTUS.

I hope you will look at the LOTUS 1978 often, and that memories from your two years at Peace will be cherished.
